

Fact cards

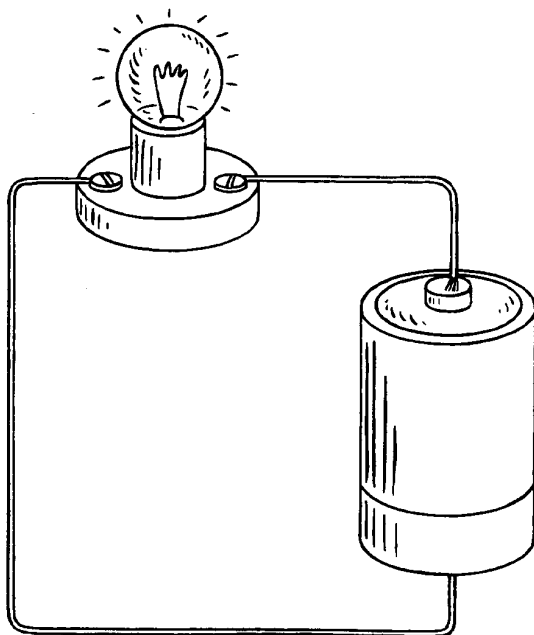

Shadows are formed when the path of light is blocked.

Shadows formed by the Sun will be longer at the beginning and end of the day, and shorter at midday.

Electrical devices need a complete circuit in order for them to operate.

Switches are used to break and complete a circuit in order to operate an electrical device.

