

Fact cards

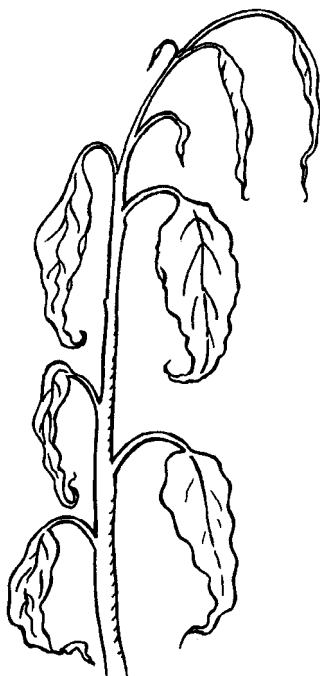

Seed dispersal helps prevent plants from becoming overcrowded.

Germination is the first process in seed growth.

Green plants deprived of light will die.

Plants take in carbon dioxide and give out oxygen.

