

Fact cards

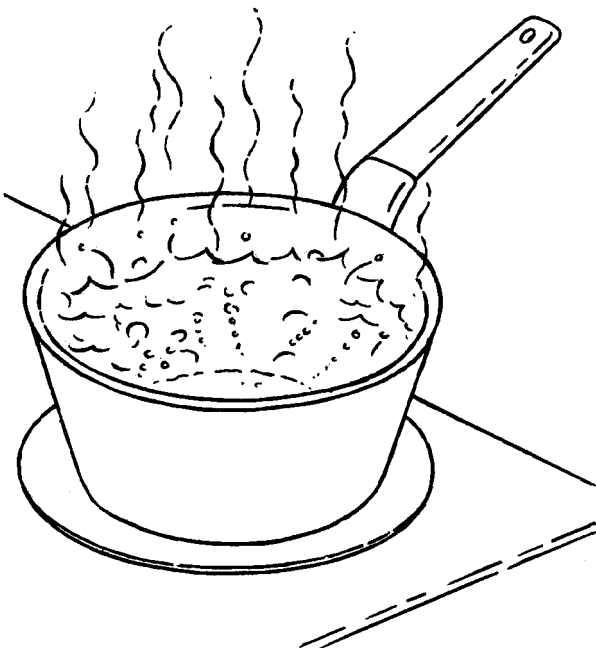

Water can take the form of a liquid, a solid or a gas.

The water cycle is a continuous process of evaporation and condensation.

The boiling point of water is 100°C.

Burning gives off energy in the form of heat and light.

