

Fact cards

Physical changes are reversible.

Chemical changes are irreversible.

Crude oil is separated into many different forms and is used to make lots of commonly-used substances, such as petrol and plastics.

When one substance is dissolved in another, the mixture is called a solution.

