

India's national sport

Major world sports, such as hockey and polo, were developed in India. Hockey is India's national sport. Hockey and polo spread to other parts of the world because of trade and by different rulers of India, such as the British.

- Below is a hockey polo shirt (front and back). Fill it in, using colours you associate with India. Try and incorporate some of India's national symbols, too.

